

Safety and Environment Supervisor - Panama

Website: www.cabo.ca

Cabo Drilling (Panama) Corp., one of Central America's larger mineral drilling services companies, is searching for a Safety and Environment Representative for a large drill project in Panama on a rotational basis.

The Safety and Environment Representative works closely with our on-site project supervision and local management on coordinating and maintaining Company and Client safety and environment policies and procedures for the project. The incumbent will be required to conduct employee education and regular safety and environmental audits.

Your experience in occupational health and safety is complemented by your understanding of the mineral drilling and exploration industry and your ability to converse in both in Spanish and English.

Please forward resume in confidence to: jamesg@cabo.ca
